President's Corner

Hello All,

We had a very successful joint meeting in March with FLCMM. A special thank you goes out to our guest speaker, Mary Joy (MJ) DelConte (OSHAAdvisor), for sharing valuable HAZWOPER training information and resources. In addition, thank you to our executive committee members for their efforts to ensure the meeting was a success.

RIT students from Grant Esler's Occupational Safety course will be presenting their reports on various related topics at our April meeting at RIT. Grant has selected the very best papers and the students are working hard to prepare. Please attend to support the students and to offer input that may help them in the future.

We are currently accepting nominations for the GVC 2019/20 executive committee. Current Vice President/President Elect James Locigno will assume the Office of President. The remaining offices are up for election and I encourage anyone who is interested to complete and submit the nomination's form that I emailed to all GVC members a few days ago. Contact me for a form if you need one.

As I stated last month, serving as the President of the Chapter has been a very rewarding experience. We are all fortunate to have an outstanding executive committee that is committed to the Chapter. I look forward to creating a smooth transition for the next Chapter President and executive committee.

Our Chapter needs to continue to grow and reach out to new professionals. I am asking all of you to please consider running for an elected office.

Hope to see you at our April meeting.

Joe Rosenbeck

RIT Instructor Grant Esler has selected the best student papers from his Occupational Safety course and those students have prepared presentations for our April meeting.
